National Day for Truth and Reconciliation

Sept. 30

National Day for Truth and Reconciliation

Earlier this year, the Government of Canada passed legislation to recognize Sept. 30 as the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation. The day commemorates the tragedy of residential schools in Canada and their continuing impact on Indigenous communities, and ensures public observation of the history and legacy of residential schools remain a vital component of the reconciliation process.

Today, the Town will raise a flag in recognition of Truth and Reconciliation Day to allow us all to take the time to learn more and reflect on these truths. The Town is encouraging everyone to wear an orange shirt today in honour of this day. The orange shirt was chosen to represent this day as it references a real orange shirt that was taken from residential school survivor, Phyllis (Jack) Webstad. To learn more about this story, visit orangeshirtday.org.
